

Bird Notes.

Early Nesting.

Mrs. L. E. Roake saw a pair of White-plumed Honeyeaters (Meliphaga penicillata) feeding three young out of the nest in Wattle Street, Malvern, on the morning of 20th July, 1935. At first they were fed whilst on the limb of a tree, later all were on the ground being fed. One young bird was very small, whilst the other two were of fair size.
