

By Professor J. B. Cleland.

On 29th September, 1938, in the grounds of the Adelaide Hospital, a White-plumed Honeyeater ("Greenie") (Meliphaga penicillata) was seen to attack a Crested Shrike Tit (Falcunculus frontatus). There was much noise and excitement.

---