

---

and canaries, with several others. Altogether the noise of their song in the cabin is rather startling.”

---

---

Imported Birds.—The following extract from the Adelaide Observer, July 26, 1862, page 4, has been supplied by Mr. J. McLellan, Archivist, Public Library.

“IMPORTED BIRDS—One of the cabins of the Sea Star has been extemporised into an aviary, and a varied collection of birds has thus been brought to the colony, though the loss by deaths on the passage has been very great, which necessarily enhances the value of the remainder. There are blackbirds and skylarks, bullfinches, and thrushes, goldfinches