

TRAPPING IN NEW SOUTH WALES.

In the June issue of Wild Life Service it is pointed out that "licences for the trapping of protected birds have to date only been issued (in New South Wales) to persons engaged in bona fide scientific investigations. This being the case, any person found trapping protected birds should be immediately investigated."