

By R. C. Beck.

—January, 1926.—

During the last few weeks we have had a very great number of Wattle-Birds and Lorikeets visiting our district. Recently I counted 24 of the former in one flock. Apparently there is a shortage of honey in the hills, caused by the dry season or influx of honey merchants with too many hives of bees.